TO-DAY'S ELECTIONS.

THE CONTEST IN TEN STATES.

Interest Centers in New York and Ohio,

Where President Cleveland Has Manifested Much Anxiety.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

NEW YORK, November 8.—There are seven tickets in the field in this state, respectively, republican, democrat, union labor, union labor, progressive labor, prohibition and greenback. The offices to be filled are those of secretary of state, comptroller, treasurer, attorney general and engineer.

Fred D. Grant heads the republican ticket for secretary of state, Frederick Cook that of the comptroller, and Henry George the union labor ticket. These three parties have a red-hot campaign, and the candidacy of Grant has excited much of the magic of his former name. The result, however, will be problematical until the close of the polls today. Henry George claims that he will have 125,000 votes, which, however, will be a long way off from the winning figures. In '83 the republicans carried their secretary of state by 18,000 plurality, while the democrats carried the comptroller by a plurality of 11,000, while the union labor ticket carried the attorney general by a plurality of 7,000. There is no doubt that the state is very close, and if Grant can get a shade more than 5,000 votes he will carry the state. The union labor ticket is also very close, and if it can secure a plurality of 1,000, it will carry the state. The republican ticket is also very close, and if it can secure a plurality of 1,000, it will carry the state. The union labor ticket is also democratic majority for governor was 21,157, while at the last election, in 1883, this was reduced to 11,987.

Colored republicans are taking but little part in the election, and it is probable that the city will go democratic by 8,000 majority and the state by over 10,000.

BOSTON, November 8.—Oliver Ames and Henry D. Lovering are at the head of the republican ticket, and it is probable

majority and the state by over 10,000.

Virginia.

(Special to The Indianapolis News.)

RICHMOND, November 8.—Only members of the legislature will be elected to-day. The campaign has been a remarkable one, although on account of the retirement of General Mahone there has not been much general interest manifested in it as in the one of two years ago.

New Jersey.

NEWARK, November 8.—Advice from many points in southern and western New Jersey indicates that the republican party vote is being cast. The prohibition vote is light, and very few labor tickets are in the field. The legislature alone is to be elected there.

A TUNNEL CAVE-IN.

Six Men Killed and Several Injured on the C. & A. C. Road.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., November 8.—A

Cohoes (O.) special says: "The tunnel of the Dresden branch of the C. & A. C. railroad, twelve miles west of here, is reported to have caved in last night. Six men were killed and several wounded."

BOOM the gas trust. Another pull will

Don't forget the manufacturers' meeting for the Consumers' Gas trust to-night.

Among many sessions held to-day the one in New York is perhaps most interesting.

There is the Henry George labor element in the state contest and a democratic split in the New York City contest.

The press is making but one mistake concerning the anarchists, and that is in the amount of space it is devoting to accounts of the thousand and one incidents of the time. There is no call for such stuff. They ought to be let alone and be hanged decently and quietly.

GOVERNOR CULBERTSON has a chance to come to law men—the chance to stand between law and anarchy. It is practically now the one on whom depends the future of American institutions.

If he allows the law to vindicate itself, his institutions will have an accession of strength. If he allows sloppy cash and cowardice to carry the day, the selfish spirits of anarchy, whetted with this of force, may rise to read on.

THE advocates of the gas monopolists are trying to shock the ardor of the people and the Consumers' Gas trust by insinuating that the trust is illegal. They take up the decision of the Pittsburgh court in a trust case, which was published some time ago in the papers. W. H. Vanderbilt, with others, gave 2,000 shares in a railroad to trustees, to be held and voted by them in electing directors and controlling the stock. His son Cornelius used to recover control of the shares and got it, the court holding that such a grant couldn't be made. To attempt to find a parallel in this with the Consumers' Gas trust shows that desperate straits the gas monopolists are driven. There is no parallel.

The cases are diametrically different.

Vanderbilt case was a grant of stock separating control and ownership, and it was granted of a thing whose purpose was money-making, and whose operation was marketable. The Consumers' trust is located here, and its existence depends upon the patronage exclusively of the people here. The foundation of the trust is not the control of stock the ownership of which rests elsewhere. The stock will be extinguished as soon as it is paid for by the trust and the continuing obligation is not to control it for profits as an investment from property, but the working of the plant thus created, so that there shall be no profits at all for anybody. The purpose and object are as squarely opposite to the Vanderbilt railroad case as day and night, and the Pittsburgh case can only aid in drawing the line that defines the difference.

The Consumers' Trust is simply the loan of a half million dollars by the people to the trustees, this loan to be paid in full with 8 per cent interest. That extinguishes it. The further consideration of the loan is that the industry founded by it shall not yield dividends to any one, but shall furnish the product at cost. The gas monopolists will have to try again.

How the Anarchists Talked.

The most plausible, or rather the most deceptive of the clamors raised by the friends of the anarchists, is the limitation of free speech implied in the judicial action that condemns men against whom nothing has been proved, but that they made dangerous speeches. "What is a dangerous speech?" "What words go to the expression of dangerous opinions?" These are questions they press in their zealous defense of the worst conspiracy ever known in this country. "If a court may construe the language of a dangerous speech, it is possible that one court may find peril

CITY NEWS.

October was a good month for the pound-keepers, as the police gathered up 125 cows, 18 horses, 10 dogs and 205 geese and ducks.

The will of the late Christian Moldheim was admitted to probate yesterday. His widow is made executrix, and all his estate is left to her.

The Universalist church services at 7:45 this evening, in the lecture-room of the Central Christian church, will be conducted by Miss H. B. Johnson, in the absence of the pastor. Subject: "The Translation of a Life."

Edward Hago, an inmate of the insane asylum, was declared insane by the circuit court yesterday. The proceeding was the necessary formality to obtain an inheritance from his mother's estate. Wm. J. Hago, was made his guardian.

Receiver Lamb, of Harrison's bank, filed suit in the superior court against Joshua G. Adams and others to obtain judgment on two notes, one of $1,200 and the other of $8,000. The notes are alleged to be lost or else in the possession of some of the defendants.

The Indiana Farmer has enlarged its borders, having added ten columns, and it is to be printed on a new press. The Farmer is one of the most successful agricultural journals, because it is particularly adapted to the needs of farmers in the Ohio Valley and meets its popularity.

Treasurer Snyder, of the police hall fund, has filed his final report, showing that each member of the police force has received $26.14 of the sum realized. Thirty-five of the men took the cash and the others got overcoats, of which Huber made twenty-eight and containing furs.

GAS NOT DISCUSSED.

The Council Devotes Its Attention to Matters of Regular Business Only.

The natural gas question was discreetly avoided at the council meeting last night, and will probably remain untouched until the success or failure of the Gas trust is assured. The members whose terms expire manifest little interest in the meetings, and last night but seventeen of the council were present. The bids for the Washington-street improvement were all unanimously rejected, on the ground that all were much too high. That matter, therefore, is in the condition of a dead issue.

Mayor Denny offered his board for $5,000, with M. G. McLain and Byron K. Elliott as sureties, and it was accepted. Several minor items of business came up for discussion, among them a petition asking for ground vacated between Main's brewery and the river which was concurred in; $1,106 were refunded to W. H. English, paid as city taxes on property beyond the city limits; a proposition from the Union Railway company in regard to the benefits and damages in the opening of Viaduct street was rejected, and a new schedule of rates for the renting of Tomlinson hall was adopted. As revised, prices are as follows: State and county political conventions to pay $50, and congressional and city $35 per day. Balls, drills and all other entertainments requiring the removal of chairs are to be charged $60 for the first day and $35 for each additional day. Musical and literary entertainments, at night, are to pay $35, and in the day time only $25.

A protest against the opening of a morgue at 125 North Delaware street by C. E. Kropke was presented from residents of that locality.

The display of Chrysanthemums. Tomlinson hall has, for the time being, been converted into a green-house—a chrysanthemum bower, as it were. A similar display of flowers has never been attempted before in Indianapolis. The florists have been at the head of this enterprise. For months they have been making preparations for a flower show with chrysanthemums, the flower of fashion, as a special attraction. Private plants have been contributed by scores of citizens and large assortments from the east have been received. With a background of many plants and flowers, the chrysanthemums, the "Queen of autumn," will be displayed in great numbers and to the greatest advantage. This flower came originally from Japan. It has long been known in America, but it had, up to within a few years, simply been tolerated. It is capable of the greatest cultivation, and some wonderful results have been achieved by those who have given the flower attention.

The show will open to-night and will continue all week. It will be too good to be missed. The florists have offered liberal prizes for the best displays, and the competitors have put on exhibition the most costly and beautiful flowers at command, east or west. Governor Gray will be present to-night, and the opening ceremonies will include an address from him.

Green Smith's Warrants. The senate journal of the last session, in its record of warrants drawn by the presiding officer, shows that Green Smith drew warrants in favor of himself for $516, or at the rate of $8 a day, besides miles, which is the per diem of the lieutenant governor.

At the session of 1885, he drew only $6 a day. State Auditor Carr said that he was not entitled to more at one time than at another, as he had been elected to new office, and so he released payment on warrants drawn by Smith for himself for $90 and $30 respectively and they are still unpaid. One of them was presented to the auditor by a tradesman of the city, and the other by a Mr. Carr claims that the senator from Jennings has overdrawn his account $200 in addition to this, and Smith thinks that the state owes him $118.

Protection Against Typhoid Fever. Physicians unite in advising that drinking water, whether from wells or from the water works, be boiled before use. This is looked upon as a reasonable precaution against typhoid fever germs. Low water has heretofore been supposed to be pure water, but later conclusions are that low water drains sediment largely, and therefore contains poisonous precipitations. Typhoid is becoming alarmingly prevalent, and the water is supposed to be the cause. All cities are suffering—Indianapolis much less than others. The clouds of dust carry poison, also, and rain or sprinkling will bring relief. The sewers also should be sluiced to carry off the stagnant filth.

Dr. Parker's Lecture. Dr. Joseph Parker, of London, will open the Indianapolis lecture course to-morrow evening, the subject of "Christian Apologetics." The gentleman needs no introduction to an audience in this city, as his recent eulogy on Henry Ward Beecher in Plymouth church and his lectures in eastern cities have made him well known to all readers of the newspapers. The lecture promises to be of popular interest, and not a deeply philosophical discourse, as the name might imply. Immense audiences have greeted Dr. Parker in other cities.

Incendiarism at Work. Saturday night a colored man living at 208 West Second street, went to his well to get some water, and discovered two men in the act of setting fire to his house. The men fled and left no souvenir of their visit but a bottle from which they had poured a quantity of oil all over the place, preparing for lighting. The men were colored, but the surprised householder can give no clue to their identification. His discovery, however, clinches the theory that many of the recent fires have been the work of incendiaries.

LADIES' crush hats and fine silk umbrellas at Dalton's Bazaar House last night.

Silk Umbrellas. To any one wishing to gaze on or purchase an elegant silk umbrella, they should call and gaze on the stock exhibited by Ryan, who sells the best, at 21 and 23 S. Illinois.

This Is Good.

My dwelling house at 840 West Washington st., which was burned at 7:20 o'clock this morning was insured by Zener, Friedley & Co., in the Royal Insurance company. The loss was adjusted and I received the full amount of my policy without discount at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, just eight hours after the fire.

When you insure with Zener, Friedley & Co., you insure with agents who adjust their own losses. Should you have a loss, you are not compelled to wait a week or ten days for an adjuster, who, when he does come, is an entire stranger to you, having neither interest in you nor knowledge of the property you have lost. Such delays not only cause annoyance, but often result in an injury to business not easily remedied.

To have your loss promptly adjusted by the agents who write the insurance and know you and your property, is certainly an advantage not to be ignored, especially when it costs you no more to insure with an agent who, when he has a loss, reports it to the company, and waits for an adjuster to be sent.

Then again, the construction of your policy is so small matter. In the writing of a policy every contingent that can arise in case of a loss should, as nearly as possible, be foreseen and provided for. This Zener, Friedley & Co. are competent to do. They are not novices in fire insurance. The knowledge they have of the business has been gained by years of hard service as local agents, and they are competent to do it. It is the knowledge thus gained which they propose their patrons shall have the benefit of.

In addition to the Royal, they represent the Northern, Springfield and Lancashire, Girard, Union and St. Paul insurance companies.

A TWENTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE. 770 Broadway, N. Y., March 17, 1896. I have been using ALLOTT'S POROUS PLASTER for twenty years, and found them one of the best of family medicine up my experience. I say that when placed on the small of the back ALLOTT'S PLASTER fills the body with nervous energy, and thus cures fatigue, brain exhaustion, debility and kidney difficulties. For women and children I have found them invaluable. They never irritate the skin or cause the slightest pain, but cure sore throat, croupy cough, colds, pains in the side, back or chest, indigestion or bowel complaints.
